

Rodgers House Committee meeting

April 24, 2019

We had a very good turnout for the meeting, I was stuck in traffic on East Lake so the meeting was a few minutes late.

We discussed the condition of our faucet, which is leaking, the newly painted sink, which looks amazingly nice, it cost me $65.00 versus $450.00! It took all day to do the project but it was worth it.

We discussed the upcoming Santa Cruz version of the Burning man, they want to be able to go in and out of the house, and we do not want to have people who we do not know having the ability to go and come. This morning I talked to the lady who is in charge and she said they would be willing to put up a ladder and start and stop the video that way. Jody will be coming out and keeping a eye on things, IF I was not going to be gone on a much needed few days away I could be here. But, I am not, and with the house being freshly painted I told the lady they must wrap the legs of the ladder so it does not mess up any of the paint. I will meet her next Wed. and also have the discussion of no damage to any of our gardens.

The discussion of having younger people become acquainted with the Rodgers House and be willing to sit on the porch during the day while we give tours. I will ask my daughter in law, Connie will ask hers, and anyone else willing to offer their family would be appreciated, we need some young blood! The next generation is needed to keep the love of the house going.

Marilyn took our two broken window shades home and will get them fixed, at the May 22nd meeting we will take down all the curtains and have them washed, and put back up.

I thanked the committee for coming to a surprise Birthday luncheon at the Seascap Lodge, it was a total surprise for me.

We ended our meeting taking a tour of the gardens, and thanks to the devoted team of workers the garden and roses are spectacular! The trees are blooming and everything looks better than they ever had, it is with great pride I can say the committee is a working force of some fantastic women.

Sincerely,

Loretta Estrada

Chairperson